Vinita, Okla. Tuesday, Aug. 31

The interior department continues to add names to the tribal rolls of Indian citizenship notwithstanding the law.

E. H. Harriman is one of the wealthiest men in the world, but is a dying man just the same. All his wealth cannot cure him of the disorder that is surely sapping his life.

The Frisco is being sorely pressed for a water supply at Alton. The problem however is easily solved by sending her engines down to Vinita for water. A better plan would be to make a division at this place.

Not less than one hundred men ought to be at work paving Vinita streets. It looks mighty good to outsiders to see such work going on. Money spent for public works goes right back into the channels of trade and makes business good.

COMMISSION DOESN'T REQUIRE IMPOSSIBLE

Guthrie, Okla., Aug. 31.—Certain agitators have attempted to discredit the work of the corporation commission, claiming that their orders were unfair to organized capital and confiscatory in some cases. An unbiased perusal of the orders of the corporation commission will show that the charges are without foundation and that the corporation commission gives as nearly equal and exact justice as it is possible for human courts to give. In handing down an order in the case of Harmon vs. the Iron Mountain Railroad company, wherein it was sought to make the railroad company build a spur of road on a sand-bar in the river so that the plaintiff might load gravel thereon, the order uses the following language:

"It is not the policy of the commission to require railroad companies to perform the impossible, to imperil their property and to defy the public enemy, and it is apparent from the evidence that to require the defendant to maintain the switch in question and to place cars on same for loading would be an unreasonable requirement, and that the same is not contemplated in commissions order prescribing rules and regulations for furnishing cars."

The case was dismissed by the commission.

New Educational Dictionary.
Guthrie, Okla., Aug. 31.—The state superintendent of public instruction and force are compiling a new educational dictionary which will give a complete list of all county superintendents, city superintendents and high school principals and will also contain the faculties of all schools as well as their salary budget and a list of the various state institutions.

PRIDE OF AMSTERDAM JEWS.

Synagogue in That City, Built by Refugees, Is Easily the Finest in the World.

In the midst of the Jewish quarter stands the pride of Amsterdam Jews, the grandest synagogue in the world. It is "great" in everything, in its size, its proportion, its age and its traditions. There is no synagogue like it anywhere, and while it stands there cannot be anything like it.

The great temple in the Rue de la Victoire in Paris may perhaps be larger, the splendid synagogue in the Oranienburgerstrasse in Berlin may be more ornate, but the Portuguese synagogue in Amsterdam has a glory all its own. Its majestic columns, its solid oak, its noble ark and its lovely windows all speak eloquently of the type of Jew that sought the hospitality of Holland when the cruel and short-sighted policy of the Spain of those days drove the pioneers of the community into the hardy little northern country.

The history of the congregation is not, however, one unbroken record of peace and glory. Curiously enough, its early members, free themselves at last from persecution, seemed at times to make up for the persecution they had endured by their own internal intercommunal intolerance.

Their treatment of Uriel Acosta is a most painful chapter in their local history, and their attitude toward Haruch Spinoza was an error for which no compensation can ever be made. To the visitor to the synagogue is still shown the seat which Spinoza is supposed to have occupied, but the tradition is probably apocryphal.—Jewish Chronicle.

MALE "LADY OF THE HOUSE"

Not Uncommon for New York Boarding Places to Be Conducted by Men.

"A man acting as 'lady of the house' in a first-class boarding house was a distinct surprise to me," said a New York woman who has been trying to find a pleasant home for a friend from out of town. "In a single morning I came across two boarding houses where men were in charge. The first man was quite communicative and when I expressed my regret that I could not make arrangements with his wife instead of himself, he said:

"Oh, I run the place now. My wife died three years ago and rather than break up I took charge of it myself. People wanted to stay and it was easier to let things go on in the old way."

The second man didn't have the same excuse, as he'd never had a wife. He'd been living in the same house for a good many years and when it was about to break up several years ago he took it over rather than give up his comfortable home. Incidentally he told me he was opening a small boarding house down at the seashore, which was easily reached by the elevated road, and that his guests could come down there for a week end and always feel at home. He laid no claims to being a hotel keeper—just a man who was playing 'landlady' in a boarding house."—New York Sun.

Where Church and Circus Meet.

"On one point at least the church and the circus touch common ground," said a clerk in the naturalization bureau. "Each member of a circus performer's family and each member of a country preacher's family claims a different birthplace. Very often families consisting of grown-up brothers apply for citizenship. In most cases they are poor people whose parents certainly could not afford to be globe trotters, and all the children were born in the same village or town. But once in a while I meet three or four or maybe five or six brothers each of whom has first seen the light in a different place. In a case of that kind my first question is:

"Parents in the circus?"

"Usually they were. If not, I guess again."

Melody on the Farm.

If you like music and pretty pictures, you can have them at your will by getting up early on the farm and listening to the songs of the birds and all the signs and sounds of nature's resurrection. You can hear the chickens, the cows and the hogs—the neighboring houses as the farmstead wakes with their feed. You can hear the voices at the lot—as the hogs or the hired hands draw water for the stock and make ready for the day. Then, as the first long golden lance of light strikes down across the silent fields, you can see all the life and bustle of another opening day. And all of it is sweet, and bringeth peace and joy—as we find out sometimes when we have left it and plan for it again.—Sylvia (Ga.) Telephone.

Cheering Up.

"When your work seems to be going wrong," says a woman who mixes practical philosophy with her work, "blow yourself to something nice. Go out and buy yourself a lovely dinner at a nice place, or get a new dress, or buy some flowers for your apartment. Yes, I know it will cost money, but the impetus it will give you in your work will amply repay you. When you see these things you will say to yourself: 'Well, I'm doing pretty well, after all, when I can afford to blow myself so,' and when you feel that you are doing well you will do well."
